REFRESHER COURSES FOR FOREIGN HEALTH PROFESSIONALS

On the basis of the Rambam Medical Center, Israel

The successes of the Israeli healthcare system are related to a great degree with its exposure and relations with the world medical community. The experts and professionals of Rambam Medical Center, the largest hospital in the North of Israel, willingly share their know-hows, state-of-the-art technologies and their own developments with colleagues from around the globe.

For this aim, Rambam Medical Center initiates training and internship programs in priority areas of modern medicine - from highly efficient IVF protocols to latest cancer treatment methods.

The Rambam hospital is a medical and research state institution, which develops also flexible, tailor made training programs. The duration of such professional training may vary from several days to six months - depending on the chosen fields and the learning objectives.

It is worth noting also the training programs for nursing staff, students of medical institutions as well as hospital management course for administrative staff.

Internships in the Rambam Medical Center are carried out in close cooperation with research institutes affiliated to the hospital, providing doctors from other countries a unique opportunity to not only to learn about the latest international research programs, but also to participate in their development.

Training programs for surgeons provide an excellent opportunity for experts to attend operations, during which the hospital surgeons explain in detail their actions and tactical surgical decisions, provide a detailed analysis of the operation protocol and introduce advanced surgical techniques and new equipment.

A special feature of the training programs in Rambam is the presence of the course participants at meetings where complex clinical cases are analyzed. Since foreign specialists do not have an Israeli medical license and insurance, they cannot participate in patient care directly. However, since they are accompanied by a mentor, they will receive both theoretical and practical experience in selected training programs, as well as unique educational experience.
